

Critics of Enlightenment Rationalism Revisited

Editors: Gene Callahan and Kenneth B. McIntyre

Table of Contents

- Introduction
Gene Callahan and Kenneth B. McIntyre
- Conservatism and Social Criticism: Pascal on Faith, Reason, and Politics
Tyler Chamberlain
- Giambattista Vico and Democratic Pluralism: Lessons for Deliberative Democracy
Emily Finley
- A Modest Spinozist: George Eliot and the Limits of Rationalism
Robert Wyllie
- Projections Upon the Void: Irving Babbitt's Critique of Naturalism
Justin Garrison
- Carl Schmitt's Exceptional Critique of Rationalism
Gülşen Seven and Aylin Özman
- Max Weber and the Limits of Reason
Lucie Miryekta
- The Moral Personality of Mikhail Bulgakov
Jason Ferrell
- Nec Spe Nec Metu: Philosophic Catharsis in Karl Löwith's Meaning in History
Ryan Alexander McKinnell
- Metaphor, Meaning, and Mind: Knowledge and Imagination in Owen Barfield
Sarah J. Wilford
- Rings and Rationalism: Tolkien's Tales Against Domination
Nathanael Blake
- Shedding the Shackles of Rationalism
Gene Callahan

- Beautiful Minds: Gregory Bateson on Ecology, Insanity, and Wisdom
Charles Lowney
- Robert Nisbet: Art, History, and the Anti-Rationalism of Sociological Methodology
Luke C. Sheahan
- Elizabeth Anscombe on Rationalism
Daniel John Sportiello
- A.C. Graham: Aware Spontaneity (anti-rationalism) vs Rationalism and Irrationalism
W. John Coats
- Intention, Intellect, and Imagination: Stuart Hampshire's Pluralism
Kenneth B. McIntyre
- Rationality and Tradition in Roger Scruton's Thought
Ferenc Hörcher
- A Counter-Enlightenment of the Present: A Defence of John Gray's Modus Vivendi
Liberalism
Nathan Cockram